The Chief Economist's Analysis [a focus on NSIA BANQUE CI]

NSIA Côte d'Ivoire's net banking income stood at CFAF 46,948 million on September 30, 2019, a decrease of 10% compared to the same period of the previous year. The decline in net banking income would come from lower commissions and the contraction of the interest margin induced by the relatively high cost of resources according to the bank. As for net profit, it contracted by 15%, going from CFAF 8,944 million on September 30, 2018 to CFAF 7,569 million at the end of the third quarter of 2019. On the stock market, NSIA shares are traded at CFAF 6,470 on December 31, 2019 against CFAF 6,000 at the start of the year, a gain of 7.83% which more reflects the sharp rise in the value of the share over the last month of the year. In 2020, the stock displays a generally downward trend and trades at CFAF 4,500 FCFA at the close of the session on February 14, 2020, a decrease of 30.4%. In the medium term, the evolution of the stock will strongly depend on the publication of the annual results for the 2019 financial year. Nevertheless, the bank's operational outlook for 2020 looks positive in connection with its ongoing securitization operation and the intensification of its commitment to the benefit of SMEs / VSEs with the signing of an agreement with the International Finance Corporation.
