Market Trends

The BRVM ended this week down, with 234.12 points for the BRVM 10 index (-3.26%) and 271.55 points for the BRVM Composite index (-1.79%). The market capitalization of the equity market stood at 7 172 billion FCFA. The equity market transactions amounted to 2.7 billion FCFA at the end of the week, mainly driven by Finance (44%), Agriculture (34%) and Public Services (15%) sectors. The SOGB CI stock records the largest growth with a gain of 24.17%, while the ETI TG and VIVO ENERGY CI stocks show the largest decline with a fall of 10%. On the commodities market, the prices of several commodities (including gold, cocoa and oil) ended the week down, except those of the oil palm and rubber which show a recovery..

The Chief Economist's Analysis [a focus on SAPH CI]

The activity of SAPH CI was favorable in 2016, in connection with the resumption of the international price of rubber, which increased by approximately +78.49% over the year 2016. Reaching 112.963 billion FCFA at the end of 2016, the company's turnover thus posted a positive evolution (+ 15.92%) for the first time since 2012 (its average growth rate between 2012 and 2015 is -16%). Like the turnover, the 2016 net profit shows a positive evolution (+165.74%), for the first time since 2012, and is in surplus to 1.169 billion FCFA, after having been deficit in 2014 and 2015. On the stock market, the stock price was generally stable, around 11 393 FCFA, in the first quarter of 2016, before following an upward trend (+32.17%) between 31 March and 11 July 2017, driven by the recovery of the price of rubber. However, in the context of a general decline in stock market prices in the second half of 2016 (-5.07% change in the BRVM Composite index), the SAPH CI share price lost 37.1% over the next 4 months. The upward trend, initiated around mid-November, continued in the first quarter of 2017. For the second quarter, it should probably be stable. The outlook for SAPH CI for 2017 in terms of results and activity should be driven by rising production, although the pressure on rubber prices remains (it has lost about 12.2% of its value between February and March 2017).

News BRVM Corporates

□ [PROPARCO]: Following a first loan granted in 2012, Porparco once again made a commitment to Aeria, which holds the concession to operate Abidjan's Felix Houphouët-Boigny Airport, as part of the project to expand the reception capacity of the said airport. The loan amounts to 13 million € over 11 years. This support should enable the airport to have adequate infrastructure to accommodate the 2 million passengers expected in 2021. This project also benefits from the support of the West African Development Bank (BOAD) and the Banque Internationale pour le Commerce et l'Industrie de la Côte d'Ivoire (BICICI).

□ [ORAGROUP]: The Oragroup Banking Group has launched the second tranche of a commercial paper issue totaling 35 billion FCFA per public offering on the regional financial market of the West African Economic and Monetary Union. This issue follows a first intervention in September 2016, which enabled the bank to raise 21.2 billion FCFA. This funding should enable Oragroup to invest in its network and customer services.

□ [Orange Group]: The telecommunication group Orange will launch its new service "Orange Bank", a fully mobile bank, on 6 July 2017 in France. The customer will benefit from products such as an account, a card, an authorized overdraft and a paid savings account. The main objective is to allow the customer to realize 100% of his operations and interactions with the bank through mobile. This initiative could, in the long term, change customer relationships with banks.

Market News

□[BURKINA FASO]: The National Assembly of Burkina Faso has unanimously adopted the law regulating the energy sector in Burkina Faso. The new law includes several innovations, including the taking into account the Community provisions laid down in the framework of the establishment of the sub-regional electricity market and the introduction of specific provisions relating to the promotion of renewable energies and energy efficiency. Simultaneously, it liberalizes the sector through, among others, the elimination of segmentation (allowing the installation of independent electricity producers throughout the country), the removal of the single buyer and the possibility for some customers to acquire electricity from suppliers of their choice, located within or outside the national territory.

□[SENEGAL]: The rating agency Moody's has upgraded Senegal's rating from "B1" (speculative category with high credit risk) to "Ba3" (speculative category with substantial credit risk), changed the outlook to stable from positive. The key drivers supporting this upgrading are: (i) the higher economic growth potential driven by government-led upgrades to energy and transport infrastructures as well as structural reforms, (ii) slow but continuous fiscal consolidation that has been concomitant to enhancements in the budget structure with increased government capital spending and revenue intake and (iii) the high debt affordability with a limited foreign exchange risk.
